

Declaration of Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction Over Name and Estate

I, jonathan-daniel: clements, hereby declare that I hold full ecclesiastical and divine jurisdiction over my given name, estate, and all derivations thereof, including but not limited to any stylized, capitalized, encoded, or corporate representations.

This declaration rebuts:

- Any assumed legal title or ownership of my name
- Any bond, security, or trust formed without my express ecclesiastical authority
- Any use of my name for taxation, regulation, or commercial gain

The name and estate are sealed within the Ecclesiastical Sovereign Living Trust.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.

Ecclesiastical Notice of Rebuttal to Personhood Assignment

This notice serves to rebut and cancel all assumptions that jonathan-daniel: clements is a "person" under law, corporate fiction, or civil statute.

I am a living man, not a legal entity. I do not consent to:

- Personhood assignments
- Corporate entity designations
- Treatment under artificial commercial statutes

All such labels are hereby rejected and returned for cause. My living status is affirmed and protected by divine jurisdiction.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.

Ecclesiastical Right to Control Image, Likeness, and Biological Property

I, jonathan-daniel: clements, assert complete and sovereign control over my physical likeness, image, voice, biometric signature, DNA, and biological property.

This control includes:

- Right to prohibit unauthorized capture, storage, or use
- Right to redress for misuse or manipulation of biological identifiers
- Right to remain private, untagged, and unmonitored

All biological and visual data fall under ecclesiastical and divine protection.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.
